Project Title: Dungeons and Dragons Website

I'd like to build this site as multiple pages, rather than a long, single page website. Standard site navigation likely along the top. There should be plenty of content and images to utilize across individual pages.

- Home Page/Introduction – Set the tone of the website and establish an attention-grabbing intro
- General Overview - Basic history of the game as well as notable key points about its influence
- Play Overview – Overview of game structure including mechanics, adventures/campaigns, and miniature figures
- Development History – Cover different game editions since release as well as notable information about licensing
- Reception – Highlight acclaim, legacy, and criticism of the game
- In Popular Culture – Finish with brief overview of the game's cultural relevance
